—Whenever a musical festival offers as many charms to an American as a prairie or a horse-race, we shall think the day of our regeneration is come.

The conference of Baptist ministers objecting to the publication of Mr. Beecher's sermons in the Examiner and Chronicle, the organ of their sect, is the smallest specimen of contracted bigotry since the man was put in jail for saying the world turned round.

—When Sherman was in command in Kentucky he was serenaded by a regimental band, and made it as follows:

"What the devil are you officers doing here, making this infernal noise? You ought to be rebels, not rebels, and you ought to quit hunting rails, and making soldiers of them. I want no more of this d—d noise about here."

—An organ-grinder in New York, who has lost his arms and turns the eternal crank with his feet, realizes fifteen dollars a day.

—A young girl in Philadelphia, who had sulphuric acid thrown in her face several times since an unkind second-cousin, has become insane in consequence.

—A fight lately occurred at a circus at Marietta, Pa., between a showman and a citizen, in which the latter was shot. Another citizen then struck the murderer, a fatal blow on his head with the butt of a gun, which at the same instant was discharged, and killed the man who held it.

—Detroit is to have a $150,000 opera-house, which will seat 2,000 persons.

—An officer at Buffalo hailed a fellow on the street, having some hoop skirts, which he suspected were stolen. The rogue threw one over the officer's head, and made his escape.

—The principal excitement just now in Wisconsin is hops. An increase of nine thousand acres for the present year is reported, and the culture of hops has paid the farmer better for the past five years than any crop known to Wisconsin husbandry.

—Billiard tables are hereafter to be used in the British Army, $300,000 in gold having been already appropriated by Parliament to supply these tables to the army officers in the various barracks throughout the world.

—In St. Louis during the month of June, 1,474,610 passengers were carried on the street railroads, an average of 201,870 per day.

—One baker in Boston sells over two hundred quarts of baked beans every Sunday morning, and another dispenses of a third more than that. There are probably fifty other bakers who do as large a trade. The baker of three years' standing in his own good particular pot, Boston is unhappy for the week and so far all time, if it does not have its beans, (which Prof. Blot says are quite unfit to eat), and its beans.

—Andrew Jackson Davis, the Poughkeepsie, now residing in Orange, New Jersey, is, it is said, to run as chaplain for Congress. His friends claim that the Spiritualists, who are Radical to a man, almost and certainly to a woman, should be represented, and he expects to be in Washington in September to make arrangements for the contest. Mr. Davis must be reconstructed sufficiently to submit to the title of "Reverend" and to wear a white choker. The place is worth at least $2,500, with as much more in the way of stationery and bouquets.

—The Boston Traveler states that a lady in England, while conversing with some American ladies, said, "I am sinking into a chair, exclaimed, "Did you hear that gun? It affected me strangely."

—Her visitors asked, "What was that?" and went inconsolably. Her friends had never heard of such a sound before, and appeared that it had been first at the time on the place. News came, however, that her brother, residing a hundred miles away, was the victim of a fatal shot by the accidental discharge of his townglass while hunting in a grove near his house.

—The Manchester (New Hampshire) Mirror says that "Dr. Fletcher, of Concord, acting under the direction of the New Hampshire Fish Commissioners, deposited several thousand shad spawn in Lake Winnipesaukee last week. He also put some in a hatching box, which was placed in the Merrimack river. We learn that 90 per cent. of these have already hatched."

—The New York Herald says: "It will be some time before a letter that Col. radio Jewell is in better hands than in a better company than he was when the Captain of his house, with a charming young German-American, send herein marriage cards. JEWELL."

—A New Home—The London Spectator says: "Philanthropy has seldom produced a more gratifying result than the 'Home for Little Boys' at Norton Kirby, which was opened on Saturday last. This home will accommodate one hundred boys, living in the top of the Birmingham road, and commanding one of the finest views in Kent. The name is to be selected regardless of sex, nationality or birthplace, the only qualification required is complete destitution. When we remember that the outcast boys of London are computed at ten thousand, we see to how small an extent the Norton Kirby Home meets a great want; but we earnestly and confidently hope soon to see its good example followed by similar institutions established in many parts of the country."
